DIPLOMA IN ARCHITECTURE

ADMISSIONS 2026-27

DIPLOMA IN ARCHITECTURE

The objective of the Diploma in Architecture program is to provide students with a strong foundation in architectural thinking, design development, and technical execution. Structured over three years and six semesters, the program prepares students to enter the profession at an early stage or progress into advanced architectural education.

The course begins with fundamental principles of design, construction, and spatial understanding. As the program advances, students develop practical skills, digital proficiency, and technical knowledge through studio-based learning and hands-on experience. Emphasis is placed on building industry awareness, problem-solving abilities, and effective communication skills.

The final stage focuses on application and exposure, enabling students to contribute meaningfully to the built environment with a practical, informed, and responsible approach to architectural practice.

Internship opportunities with architectural firms.

Interaction with professionals and experts.

Scope to explore allied domains.

Active involvement of industry experts.

Emphasis on software-based learning.

Analytical and evidence based research
